The ECORD Distinguished Lecturer Programme

Ocean-floor drilling provides essential material for the study of climate change, bio-diversity, geophysics and geodynamics. ECORD (European Consortium for Ocean Research Drilling) has been formed to join the international Integrated Ocean Drilling Program (IODP) under a single European banner alongside U.S.A, Japan, Korea and China and to provide support for mission-specific platforms (MSPs).

How to apply to host a lecture?

Applications to host a Distinguished Lecturer are accepted from any college, university, or nonprofit organization in ECORD member countries (see list of members countries below) AND non-ECORD European countries. Apply by email to essac@cardiff.ac.uk and include the name, address, telephone number and email address of a contact person. Please coordinate your application with other members of your department, and be sure to list more than one choice of speaker – this provides more flexibility in scheduling and increases your institution's chance of hosting a lecture. The ESSAC Office will then liaise directly with you to decide a suitable date and help determine the best pairing of speaker and institution. ECORD funding will cover the speaker's transportation expenses; host institutions are asked in turn to provide local transportation, housing, and meals for the speaker. Only one lecture per institution will be funded.
